

THIS SPEECH OUTLINE EXAMPLE

The following is an outline that you need to consider when preparing your speech. You may add to this outline and embellish it, but make sure you answer these basic questions.

1. Introduction

- A. What is your name (first and last)?
- B. What issue did you research?
- C. Why did you choose this issue?

2. Body

- A. What is your product?
- B. How does the product relate to your issue
- C. What research was involved in preparing your product?
- D. What process was involved? (How did you do it)?
- E. What are three interesting things you found out about your subject during the research for your paper and your product?

3. Conclusion

- A. What successes and failures did you encounter when researching the paper and completing the product?
- B. What did you learn from this project? (Anything about yourself)?

This speech must be at least 6 minutes and can be no longer than 8 minutes. There will be a timer to note the beginning and ending times of your speech. Practice your speech so you will not be over or under time limit. GOOD LUCK!
